

RESTLESSNESS / AGITATION

DELIRIUM is characterised by confusion which is of acute onset and follows a fluctuating course with altered level of consciousness, altered cognition and may include hallucinations.

RESTLESSNESS & AGITATION can be symptoms of delirium, but also associated with pain, urinary retention, constipation and non-physical distress. Those underlying causes need to be assessed and managed appropriately.

*CSCI = continuous subcutaneous infusion